

A PRINT AND ONLINE ADVERTISING FEATURE IN CANADA'S #1 NATIONAL NEWSPAPER AND #1 NEWS WEBSITE

Canada's colleges and institutes play a leading role in helping Canada respond to the economic, societal and environmental issues associated with climate change and sustainable development. They support Canadian innovation by teaching the skills required in the emerging clean tech sector and contribute to critical applied research projects aimed at reducing our environmental footprint. By working in partnership with local businesses, industry and communities to perfect new technologies and refine processes, they contribute to a cleaner future for all Canadians.
