As global aviation organizations estimate that air traffic will not return to pre-pandemic levels until 2024, Canadian airports are challenged to remain the vital hubs for facilitating trade, tourism and investment. This special feature, produced in co-operation with the Canadian Airports Council (CAC), which represents 54 members that operate more than 100 airports, explores the outlook for Canada’s airports and the strategies that can make a difference.

Proposed topic highlights:

SAFETY & SECURITY – Airports responding to changing circumstances and guidelines.

ECONOMIC CONTRIBUTION – Continuing to support regional economies and global connections.

FUTURE OF TRAVEL – Canada’s future as a study, work and travel destination.

TECHNOLOGY & INNOVATION – Enlisting innovation to reduce health risks and environmental footprint.
