

MAY / Globe Style Advisor 2021 / Summer Style Preview

The Globe Style Advisor Summer Style Preview issue is a primer of the people, places and products heating up the style world. In fashion and beauty, we're inspired by designer denim and scents that evoke dream destinations. In design and travel, it's laidback summer homes and chic ways to get around. And in food and drink, light-bodied wine and Hawaiian fare are whetting appetites

Omnibus

What's new and noteworthy in style for summer including the latest in connected watches, a profile of an award-winning B.C. distillery, a fresh new scent inspired by a legendary hotel and a look ahead to the return of the Canadian Arts and Fashion Awards

Essentials

The Globe and Mail Style Advisor's Essentials section features the key finds and trends in fashion, beauty, design, tech, travel, food and drink, and columns on the industry players and ideas to watch. FEATURE We look at exploring Canada from coast to coast via the innkeepers and hoteliers who facilitate local connections across the country.

FASHION & GROOMING

A guide to wearing the season's elevated tie-dye attire, a look at how Deciem cashed in on disrupting beauty and a roundup of swish sunglasses.

DESIGN & TRAVEL

We hunt through social media for clues on the next big interior trends. Plus, the launches of a designer bike and a chic new trailer make us dream about summer road trips.

FOOD & DRINK

Chianti is the perfect summer sipper thanks to its lightness and rustic roots. Also, new cookbooks hint at what we'll be grilling up this season.

Features

FASHION

Designers have reimagined the humble blue jean for luxurious women's wear. We show you how to mix classic pieces with fashion-forward options.

DESIGN

On the California coast, one Canadian fashion insider explains how she turned an iconic home into a serene retreat.

FOOD

A look at how Hawaii's food scene has evolved to reflect the diverse cultures of the islands and influences the way we eat in Canada.
