

GREAT TASTE OF ONTARIO

At the Culinary Tourism Alliance, we know much of how we used to experience the world has changed in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Amidst all the chaos though, there is a silver lining. We believe there is an opportunity during reopening to strengthen Ontario's visitor economy - to deepen the connections between urban and rural communities while enhancing the tourism and agriculture supply chains. Culinary tourism connects us all.

That's why we've partnered with The Globe and Mail on The Great Taste of Ontario. We want their readers to fall in love with Ontario all over again. Together, we're going to encourage hyper-local exploration and help people navigate this new normal. We're going to showcase and celebrate the very best of our rural and urban communities and connect Ontario with the people and places that make its food and drink unique.

GREAT TASTE OF ONTARIO: AUGUST 20TH EDITION

This August, we're going to stretch that summer feeling in cities across the province.

Building on our strong first three issues of Great Taste of Ontario, the Culinary Tourism Alliance and The Globe and Mail are producing a package of must-read food tourism content timed for late August—the dog days of summer.

Capitalizing on the growing desire among Ontarians to get out and explore their province—while discovering new locales and the foodie-friendly fun they have to offer—this feature is the perfect way to stay top of mind among those seeking to explore and support local businesses and communities, with an emphasis on the hidden gems and local favourites in urban spaces.

Potential topics include:

- Cycling tours for every kind of rider
- Our favourite urban food experiences
- Pet-friendly guide for getting out for puppy owners
- How to recreate tasty fair foods this summer
- Our top towns for midweek getaways
- The iconic Ontario foods we love

Globe Content Studio reserves the right to make all final editorial decisions on article topics and content mentions. Submitting a pitch idea does not guarantee that the concept will be used in the final product.*
