As a decentralized mechanism for tracking and storing data, blockchain technology provides a foundation for cryptocurrencies and other applications, where multiple parties can transact efficiently and with ease and confidence. This special feature explores the Canadian blockchain and cryptocurrency space and the thought-leaders, innovators, startups and investors driving it forward.

Proposed topic highlights:

BLOCKCHAIN APPLICATIONS – Blockchains for social good and as an answer to societal and industry challenges.

CRYPTOCURRENCIES – The evolution of cryptocurrencies and what it means for Canadians.

MARKET PARTICIPATION – Resources and advice for investors.

RESEARCH & INNOVATION – Technical development and innovation advancing ease-of-use and adoption of blockchain technology.
