

New opportunity!

Winter Style Preview by Style Advisor

Just in time for when Canadians start planning winter getaways, this special weekend edition of Style Advisor will capture luxurious ways to embrace the cold.

From apres-ski fashion to posh skincare for active lifestyles, we'll include stories on looking and feeling good on and off the slopes.

The issue will also include the latest winter getaway-friendly tech, ideas for chic destinations including cold weather road trips, and design ideas for bringing the lodge look home.

Just like the magazine, this special section will capture the season via the visually ambitious imagery and thoughtful written features our audience loves.

Advertising Opportunities

Print: Full national distribution. Full/half page ads on glossy stock. Pursuits section rates or contract rates apply.

Digital: contact us to explore sponsorship options.

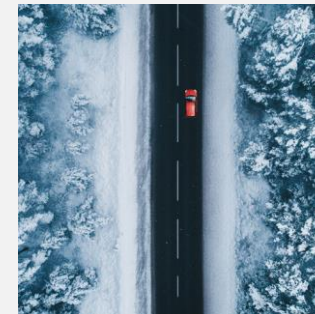

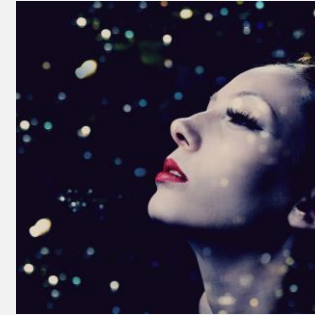

To secure your place connect with your Globe representative

For more information, contact Andrea D'Andrade adandrade@globeandmail.com

Publishing date: Saturday, October 9

Ad close: Friday, July 30

Material due: Tuesday, September 21

DREAM COAT

To claim a perfect gift, Nathalie Atkinson placed her long-held desire for a cinematic jacket in the hands of a team of creative women

This is the story of three pairs of hands that came together over sev- the Mack comedy's dialogue backward and forward. But I love the character Cal- created in historically accurate ways for her BAFTA and Emmy-winning period. During our first meeting at the Con- arrives back in Toronto.