

GREAT TASTE OF ONTARIO

Amid all the ups and downs of the past two years, a silver lining has emerged: people care about local food stories more than ever. As Canadians from coast to coast to coast shift their travel focus closer to home, we want to help them make better - more delicious - decisions.

That's why we've partnered with The Globe and Mail on The Great Taste of Ontario Special Report series. We want readers to fall in love with Ontario, season after season. Our stories will encourage local exploration in a safe and exciting way. We'll be showcasing and celebrating the very best of Ontario's diverse and delicious communities, while shining a spotlight on the people and places that make our food and drink culture unique.

We believe growing local tourism means supporting restaurants, operators and small business owners. We want to turn Ontario's people into our biggest ambassadors; to strengthen Ontario's visitor economy and deepen the connections between urban and rural communities. We want Ontario's destinations to be top of mind for food lovers across the nation. A good story can do all that after all - and we're inviting you along for the ride.
